CASHIER SEELEY OF THE RUSS HOUSE MISSING.

When Lessee Young Came to Los Angeles the Police Begun to Help Himself.

Charged Up Several Small Sums Against His Name and Then Skipped with More.

One Alaska Miner Loses Eighteen Hundred and Forty Dollars and Another One Five Hundred. His Wicked Predecessor.

(BY TELEGRAPH TO THE TIMES.)
SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 31.—(Special Dispatch.) Another cashier has gone wrong at the Russ House. A. W. Seeley, who, since May last, has been employed as bookkeeper and cashier at that hotel, disappeared from his usual haunts on Tuesday evening, and two bags of gold disappeared from the office safe at the same time. Since that night he has not been seen by his family or any of his friends. His wife is prostrated with grief over his unaccountable actions, and the Pacific Surety Company, which has been made good the amount of the shortage, is trying to locate the cashier, with a view to prosecuting him for embezzlement.

J. S. Young, lessee of the Russ House, went to Los Angeles with Gov. Dudd's party on Saturday to attend Lieut. Gov. Millard's funeral, and during his absence Seeley was in charge of the hotel. He commenced to exert his authority by taking $22 from the cash drawer. This amount he charged to himself on the books. The next day he charged himself with $12 more. Manager Young was not expected back from Los Angeles until Wednesday, and on Tuesday evening the cashier helped himself to as much money as he could comfortably carry, and walked off with the amount.

It was $15,000, according to the story of the night clerk, who had just come on duty, when Seeley walked behind the counter, opened the safe and took two sacks of gold. The unsuspicious night clerk did not know what he was doing, and did not give the cashier any trouble. Next morning Seeley did not appear and several people who wanted to catch an early train had to wait until an expert from one of the safe companies could be sent for before the safe could be opened and the money they had deposited turned over to them. Manager Young arrived from Los Angeles a few hours later, and no time was lost in checking up accounts of the missing cashier.

Two money packages were found missing. One of the bags belonged to Charles Columbia, an Alaska miner, and contained $340 in coin, besides a certificate of deposit in the bank of California for $1500. The other belonged to Frank L. King, another Alaska miner, who returned from Alaska the week before. This bag contained $900 in gold and silver, and the certificate of deposit was stopped, and the Pacific Surety Company, which had furnished a bond for Seeley in $1000, was notified of the facts. The company's detectives are now looking for the missing man, and an expert accountant will commence work on the books of the hotel today to determine the exact amount of the embezzlement.

It was only a few months ago that Seeley's predecessor managed to embezzle a large sum, and, strange as it may seem, Seeley was the expert bookkeeper who detected the shortage. Seeley applied for the position after the defaulting cashier was thrown into jail, and was so highly recommended that Manager Young gave him the position without the slightest suspicion that he would follow the wicked ways of his predecessor.

ANOTHER ACCOUNT.
SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 31.—A. W. Seeley, cashier of the Russ House, is missing, and so is $2300 belonging to J. B. Young, and, strange as it may seem, Seeley was the expert bookkeeper who detected the shortage. Seeley applied for the position after the defaulting cashier was thrown into jail, and was so highly recommended that Manager Young gave him the position without the slightest suspicion that he would follow the wicked ways of his predecessor.

When he did not appear at his desk on Tuesday morning, Young thought nothing of the occurrence and supposed that he would hear from him during the day. When no word came, and nothing was seen of Seeley, a messenger was sent to his home, and then it was learned that the cashier had not been with his family since Monday night. Seeley was looked upon by Young as an honest man. Young has been singularly unfortunate in his cashiers and Seeley was selected to take the place of one who a year ago embezzled $1500. It is supposed that he took the train for the East on Monday night.

ERASTUS WIMAN.

His Case Now Before the Court of Appeals.

(REGULAR ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT.)
ALBANY, N. Y., Oct. 31.—The court of appeals heard arguments today in the case of Erastus Wiman, charged by his late partners in the mercantile agency of R. G. Dun & Co., with forgery. The conviction of Wiman under Judge Ingraham, a year ago, and the general term last February, and it was against this decision that the District Attorney of New York appealed.

Inasmuch as the points involved relate mainly to what constitutes a partnership by participation of profits, and as there are thousands of business establishments who have employees thus compensated, the case is likely to excite wide attention aside from the prominence of the name of Wiman. The contention before the court is divided into two sections, first as to the guilt or innocence of Wiman, resting upon the evidence, and second, as to the errors of the trial judge. The first point may be determined upon the decision of the court, and the second as to whether or not a partner in the firm of R. G. Dun & Co.

Southern Pacific Train Wrecked.
ST. LOUIS, Oct. 31.—A Republic special from Alpine, Tex., says that the Southern Pacific train was wrecked near Taber, sixty miles east of there, at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon. The engine and passenger cars, and the baggage car, all went into the ditch. Fireman Burr was killed and Engineer Luff badly scalded. No cause for the accident is known.

NEW YORK CANALS.

Improvements May Result in a Great Saving Per Annum.

(REGULAR ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT.)

NEW YORK, Oct. 31.—The Engineering News this week discussed editorially the proposed expenditure of $9,000,000 on the New York State canals, showing that the proposed improvements reduce the cost of carriage 1 cent per bushel, which appears probable, the saving, with a traffic on the Erie canal equal to that of 1894, will amount to $1,555,000 per annum. It seems likely, however, that with the canal deepened and improved as proposed, the traffic will increase to what it was in 1880, and if this occurs the annual saving in the cost of freight transportation will amount to $2,512,000, or a return of nearly 25 per cent per annum upon the expenditure which the State proposes.

Concerning the objection that a ship canal might supersede the Erie canal, it says: "A canal rate as low as 1/2 cent per bushel from Buffalo to New York (which seems likely to be reached when the proposed improvements are made) amounts to only one-tenth of a cent per ton a mile. Remembering that freight rates on the open oceans on the lines of coastwise traffic and low est rates are often as much as this, and seldom less than half of this, it is not surprising that even a free ship canal open to the Great Lakes, if by no means follows that ocean vessels could afford to use it in competition with the cheaply-built barges on the Erie canal."

PARTING OF THE WAYS.

THE PANAMA RAILROAD DROPS THE PACIFIC MAIL.

A Statement Issued in Which the Former Declines to Enter into a Joint Contract with the Latter. The Cause Thereof.

(BY TELEGRAPH TO THE TIMES.)
NEW YORK, Oct. 31.—(Special Dispatch.) The Panama Railroad and the Pacific Mail for traffic arrangements have parted company. The former declines to enter into a joint contract with the latter. The cause thereof.

The following statement was issued late this afternoon by the Executive Committee of the Panama Railroad Company: "The Panama Railroad Company has decided today not to enter into a joint contract for the operation of the Panama Railroad in connection with the Pacific Mail Steamship Company, which has been under consideration for a long time. The Panama officials have always been disposed to encourage fair and business-like relations with the Pacific Mail, but they have also made it an indispensable condition of any such arrangement that the Pacific Mail be an independent and active competitor with the transcontinental lines. This decision of the Panama Railroad Company is in accordance with the continued and active competition of the Panama Railroad."

The chief points of difference between the two companies were the naming of a minimum through rate between New York and Pacific Coast points, a dormant charter question and the matter of representation in any further transcontinental association that may be formed. It is understood that Huntington agreed to waive the minimum rate question, and that he would allow the Panama Company to make as low rate as it chose, so long as it paid the Pacific Mail its full proportion of the traffic. The Panama Company demanded this privilege in order that it might not be driven into a corner and be placed at the mercy of the Southern Pacific, if the latter should see fit to go one better on rates.

Huntington, however, still insisted on the preservation of the old charter of 1872, whereby he claimed the right to exclusive traffic arrangements for all Central American points between Panama and San Francisco. The Panama Company claimed the victory by the last decision of the Supreme Court at the general term, wherein it was held that the Panama Railroad was simply required by this contract to treat with the Southern Pacific as it made through billing arrangements with any one of them. It can avoid the contract by not "through billing" with any one.

A DIPHTHERIA CURE.

Salt Water, Through Which an Electric Current Has Passed.

(REGULAR ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT.)

LAWRENCE (Kan.), Oct. 31.—Prof. L. I. Blake of the Kansas University has been successful in the prevention of diphtheria. The result of experiments already tried are to be relied on. It is a mixture of salt water, about two-thirds of the weight of the salt being sodium chloride, and the electric current has been passed. This current produces, chloride of oxygen and ozone in an active state. The mixture is as a gargle.

The treatment has been tried in a number of ways, and has been found to instantly and completely kill microbes wherever found. Local physicians believe that the discovery is a valuable one.

LESS RED TAPE.

The Potawatomi Indians for Far Better Things.

(REGULAR ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT.)

PERCY (Okla.), October 31.—The Potawatomi Indians in council passed resolutions declaring: "We believe the stringent rules of the Interior Department regarding leases are not conducive to our interests. It would be better for the Indians, better for the white man and better for the community that the Indian should have greater control over his lands for leasing, at least for a limited period of say five years. Give us more autonomy and less red-tape. The excessive potentiality of the government to thwart the development which is necessary to make us self-supporting and which can be attained only by imposing upon the Indian greater personal responsibility."

"OH, WHAT A FLUKE!"

THAT'S WHAT THEY SAY ABOUT FITZSIMMONS.

The Pugilist and His Manager Give the Last Blow to the Fight's Prospects.

"They Consent to a Continuance of Their Case in the Court at Little Rock."

A New Deal May Be Made for Next Week—Maher and O'Donnell Fight on Monday—Johnson's Fast Mile Beaten.

LITTLE ROCK (Ark.), Oct. 31.—I am perfectly willing that this case be continued until tomorrow," said Martin Julian in Justice Martin's court this morning. Had a bomb been exploded in the temple of justice it would have created a more profound impression on the throng of interested spectators than did Julian's words.

"Oh, what a fluke!" "Well, what do you think of that?" These are fair samples of the expressions of utter disgust which flew from mouth to mouth as the disappointed crowd filed out of the courtroom close upon the heels of Martin Julian and Bob Fitzsimmons as they made their way back to their suite of rooms in the Capitol Hotel in custody of two deputies of Pulaski.

For an hour before the time set for the hearing of the case, a dense crowd of people had swarmed in and about the courtroom within which Fitzsimmons and Julian were to appear. Julian was to answer warrants charging him with contempt for an assault on Corbett, and requiring them to keep the peace. Julian has a very new newspaper man who came within hailing distance of the court, just as he was about to enter. Julian asked for the warrant. Hought said there was plenty of time for that and he would hand it over. Julian told him that he (Julian) should consider himself and party free until he saw a warrant. Hought hemmed and hawed, but refused to produce the document.

As the train reached Texarkana, Sheriff Dillard and Deputy Sheriff Heard were waiting for the train. Julian asked them what they wanted. Dillard told him it was none of his business. They both approached Julian and Fitzsimmons and asked them to get out of the train and proceed to read it. Hought then also produced a warrant and started to read, but Dillard finished the warrant and said that Julian and Fitzsimmons were to be taken to the jail. The latter became very angry and began to expostulate, when Dillard asked the Sheriff of Garland county and the Sheriff of Miller county in the discharge of his duty.

JULIAN EXPLAINS.

PINE BLUFF (Ark.), Oct. 31.—Bob Fitzsimmons and Martin Julian arrived here at 10 o'clock this morning in charge of six sheriffs and will leave at 7:30 o'clock for Little Rock to enter the August presence of Gov. Clarke.

Julian and Fitzsimmons, when shown a report that they were to appear in a special train and preferred to be arrested, they said they would not go. They were then taken to the jail. for me so I get behind Peter," and the ex-champion walked away.

The fight on Monday will be for a purse of $5000. Julian has been the winner and $1000 to the loser. There is no side bet. However, despite all this, there is little room to believe that the Maher-O'Donnell fight will come off without resistance on the part of Gov. Clarke.

Atty. Gen. L. W. Hought said tonight that he will report the matter to the Governor personally tomorrow, and learn what his wishes are. "I believe it should be postponed," he said. "Further than that I am not in a position to speak."

As to the big fight, the Corbett-Fitzsimmons mill, all is still Fitzsimmons. The prospects are not bright. Corbett left the Arlington Hotel, where he had been kept under cover since yesterday afternoon, and went back to his training quarters at Spring Lake. Brady will be in Little Rock tomorrow to appear in court there. Sheriff Hought of Garland county reached his home here today after an unsuccessful attempt to get Fitzsimmons into Hot Springs. $4000 was given an ovation by the townspeople, with whom he is exceedingly popular. The sheriff's letter in his denunciation of Fitzsimmons to appear in court there, that everything will be ready for a new deal all around.

THE MEETING ON THE TRAIN.

HOT SPRINGS (Ark.), Oct. 31.—Shortly after her arrival here Mrs. Fitzsimmons was seen by reporter and told what happened on the train at Texarkana. She says Sheriff Hought and Joe Vendig boarded the train a few miles the other side of the Texarkana. Vendig entered the train and a party was in, and handed Julian the letter of Superintendent Richardson. The party then proceeded to the train to run through Texarkana and elude the Governor's warrant. Julian, however, refused to have anything to do with the party.

"You say your train will take us to Hot Springs," he said to Vendig, "but how do I know it will not take us to the jail?"

"You are right," he said. "I have nothing to show me this is not another scheme of the Florida Athletic Club and the Corbett party to get you out of the state. I have nothing to do with it or your train."

Vendig said that he would not go to the jail, but would go to the court. He said that he would go to the court and would not go to the jail. He said that he would go to the court and would not go to the jail. He said that he would go to the court and would not go to the jail.

At Texarkana is utterly false. He explained that he and Fitzsimmons were in charge of Sheriff Hought from Marshall, who has warrants for their arrest, and they were willing to go with him. When Sheriff Dillard placed the fighter and manager under arrest, Sheriff Hought was also arrested. Julian said that Corbett and his co-conspirators have done everything in their power to avoid fighting Fitzsimmons, but as soon as he and Bob reach Hot Springs they will be forced to fight or lay down their hands.

After furnishing bonds here Fitzsimmons will go to Hot Springs and claim the forfeit money from the Florida Athletic Club. When he gets this he will be ready to fight Corbett or any other man in the world for the championship and $10,000 a side before the club offering the best purse and to fight Friday, November 1. Julian stipulates distinctly, however, that the club shall be in no way connected with the Florida Athletic Club, or any of its members. Fitzsimmons will fight Corbett for $10,000 a side or nothing. The only stipulation is that the fight shall be a no-holds-barred fight. It is given out as authentic that the big fight will occur tomorrow.

HOT SPRINGS, Oct. 31.—All chance of a fight here today has passed. There is a strong probability that it will be put off until some day between the 7th and 10th of November. Julian will leave for Little Rock at 5 o'clock to surrender himself to the authorities. Three-quarters of an hour later Fitzsimmons is expected here. Corbett will appear in the ring at 12 o'clock, so that no claim can be made on him for forfeit money. The article of agreement under which the match is made expires at midnight. There is no chance whatever of the fight coming off before that time, therefore everything will be ready for a new deal all around.

WILD HUNTSMAN.

Further Evidence Tending to Show He Is a "Ringer."

(REGULAR ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT.)

CINCINNATI, Oct. 31.—There has been no decision yet in the case of Wild Huntman, who was the second runner yesterday, when he was alleged to be a "ringer," but the question of bets on the race will be settled tomorrow. There seems to be no doubt about the identity of the horse, but recent evidence indicates that Bill Brannon is back of him, if not the actual owner. D. S. Carrig of Council Bluffs, Iowa, telegraphed the judge yesterday that he took the horse from him and turned him over to Stafford. The man in whose name he ran. People from St. Louis and Brooklyn have been connected with the Brannons came here to play the horse. Further evidence is expected tomorrow. Should it be shown that Wild Huntman is owned or controlled by parties who are ruled out of the turf, it is more than probable that all bets will be declared off and somebody will be punished.

The only names that the Latonia judges will give out as under suspicion of being in the case are Wild Huntman, Brannon and W. W. P. owned by Dubois Brothers of Denver, broke the world's record held by C. J. Hamlin's Nightingale, for the two-mile race, on Monday last. W. W. P. placed two miles in 4:23, lowering the world's record by 1/4 second.

THREE NOTABLES ARE ORDERED TO BE EXECUTED.

(REGULAR ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT.)

CONSTANTINOPLE, Oct. 31.—(By Atlantic Cable.) A sensation has been caused by the report, generally believed to be correct, that three Armenians of note, who were active in the plot of the recent rioting, are to be executed on the ground that they are responsible for the recent rioting there. The loss of the matter was trifling. Advice from Moscow says that leading Armenians have been conferring with representatives of the Turkish government to prevent an outbreak there of disorders similar to those which threaten parts of Armenia, which resulted in

ALL ALONG THE LINE.

Judging from recent demonstrations in Santa Ana it must be popular down that way to be an Odd Fellow.

The grand jury is grinding away at more indictments, and those with guilty consciences are shaking in their shoes until the next morning shall be held up to the light of day.

Another cheerful young villain has been committed to the tender mercies of the reform school, and philosophically expresses his own firm belief that it is the best place for him. Truly, the age progresses.

Climate down at the Silver Gate seems to keep hearts ever young and tender for Cupid's darts to enter. The latest report from there states that a man aged 71 is about to marry a fifty-seven-year-old lassie.

The bicycle thieves are being tenderly gathered in on all sides, and it is gradually being discovered that the unlawful annexation of one of the silent steeds is exceedingly unhealthy for the annexer.

A tramp in Santa Ana yesterday stole an axe from the city, and was making way with it when captured by an officer. The populace there is now trying to determine what caused him to depart so far from the rules of etiquette governing the "profession."

This business of preferring the worst criminal charges on a lie based simply upon spite and revenge, and deluding the District Attorney into issuing a complaint without just foundation, is an outrageous abuse of the laws which are framed to protect the innocent and punish the guilty.

Snow in Kansas, snow in Nebraska, and cold weather elsewhere in the East. One of the pleasures of life for a Southern Californian is to compare the mild equability of this section with the rigorous changeability of climates to the eastward. It is climatically comfortable in Southern California all the year round.

Private advice from the Perris section, in Riverside county, report that much quiet prospecting is going on there. Several good mines have already been developed, and it is the belief with conservative experts that the section referred to will before long astonish the mining world with its gold product. If this section were located in some out-of-the-way, unexplored part of the country, there would have undoubtedly been a big rush to it years ago, but it is a difficult thing to convince anybody that there are mineral deposits of any great value in this horticultural section, especially within an hour's drive of a railroad.

THEY SCRAPPED

Because the Old Fool Kissed the Fair.

A "scrapping" match that had not received any previous advertising took place last evening about 6:15 o'clock, in front of the Ramona Hotel on Spring street. The men fought like tigers for a few moments, exchanging each other's heads with their canes, and rolling over and over on the sidewalk.

As they rose for the second round, one of the two "fairies" by whom they were accompanied rushed shrieking between them, and finally tore them apart. One man backed up against the building to get his wind, while the other hustled the frail one into a hack, one of them turning back to yell in dulcet tones to her forsaken escort, "In the first place, you'd no business to kiss me! You'd—old fool!"

As the hack moved toward Third street the man and his partner then tore the door open, jumped in and drove off with them, while howls of triumph and shrieks of "You'd—old fool!" resounded through the quiet streets.

MINE HOST ACQUITTED.

Landlord Orth Did not Batter One of His Guests.

The trial of J. G. Orth in the Police Court yesterday on the charge of battery resulted in the acquittal of Mr. Orth. He is proprietor of several lodging houses, and the evidence showed him to be a model landlord in every way. He had no difficulty to prove that he did not pull Charles Fisher, the complaining witness, out of bed and beat and kick him in a brutal manner, breaking several of Fisher's ribs, as alleged in the complaint. On the other hand it was proven that Mr. Orth was very lenient with Fisher, under the circumstances. It seems that Fisher and another man had possession of a room in the Santa Rosa lodging-house while drunk, and made it so filthy that a hog-pen would have been clean in comparison. Mr. Orth simply ordered them out. He does not know how Fisher got his injuries, but evidently was hurt before Orth saw him.

WHAT SHE DOESN'T KNOW

GAPS IN NETA'S MEMORY THAT NEED LOOKING INTO.

Had State of a Female Napoleon of Correspondence Who Once Employed Seven Typewriters and Three or Four Bottle-Fillers.

In the United States District Court yesterday most of the time was occupied in ascertaining what Princess Neta, the toilet article wonder, doesn't know about her own business.

Mrs. T. F. Kneeling, postal clerk at Station D when the Willards were running their various industries, was recalled to testify concerning the renting of a box at the station to the Southern City Manufacturing Company.

Mrs. Willard then took the stand to be cross-examined by Dist. Atty. Denis. She said she had lived in both Joliet, Ill., and South Bend, Ind., but could not remember how long in either place. Went from South Bend to Joliet, and occupied two houses at that place. One house was on Eastern avenue. Couldn't remember whether she lived there a month or six months. The other house was the manufacturing establishment spoken of in the newspaper clippings. Witness recalled the first name of the man Munson, who she said on Wednesday worked for her and said it was Will. She had a woman named Spencer also working for her. Could not say where Munson had gone. The signature to the threatening letter sent to Mrs. Stephens of Gilroy, the witness said, looked very much like Munson's writing. She did not authorize Munson to open her mail or write the two letters. Mrs. Willard said she had left Munson in charge of her business when she went to California Island. Her idea of a branch agency was that the branch manager should advertise and push the sale of her goods. When shown her letter to Miss Bond in which she said she did not want Miss Bond to pay for the printing to be used by her, and another asking for money to pay for the stationery printing, the witness got tangled up badly.

She said she never had any business dealings with the twelve agents whose names she sent to Mrs. Dixon. She did not know any of them. In the face of this testimony witness replied to the question, "Well, then, did you have twelve agents?"

"Yes, sir."

"What was her territory?"

"I don't remember."

Some of the letters were read, and witness was asked how it happened that the twelve agents selected by her for each of her branch managers lived in such widely-separated places. The witness had no explanation to give. "I didn't give any of the managers exclusive territory," she said.

Mr. Denis showed witness by her own letters that she had given both Mrs. Dixon of Gilroy and Mrs. Rapp of Nevada City, Nevada county, as part of her territory. Witness could not explain this. She was shown also that she had given three women Santa Cruz to work in, and this was also waived aside with the excuse that she had not promised any one exclusive territory. When pinned down and asked if she notified any of her branch managers that they would not have exclusive territory, she admitted that she had not. She sold Riverside county to Miss Bond of Colusa and Mrs. Bartlett of Colton.

She did not know whether any of the twelve names she distributed to the branch managers had ever done any canvassing or not. She did not know that they were agents for anything, and admitted that they had never ordered any goods from her.

Witness admitted that both Mrs. Dixon and Mrs. Stephens had been given Gilroy as territory. In explanation of her statement to Mrs. Stephens that she was too hard up to pay back $10 received from Mrs. Stephens, and that she had sold stock in her company in order to get along, witness said she meant by stock the materials used in her business, such as bottles and so forth. She had sold gross of empty bottles to a Los Angeles druggist, but could not remember his name.

Mrs. Willard could not explain how five Santa Cruz women had been furnished as agents to as many branch managers.

Referring to a statement in one of her letters that she had filled an order for twenty gross for Sterns & Co., she said it should read two gross, and that she did not know where Sterns & Co. did business. She never sold any "Wonder" to Los Angeles druggists.

Witness did not know where either Munson or Spencer had gone or where they lived when working for her. She said she had sold the "Wonder" from some drug store on Spring street, but did not know where the store was located. She bought her bottles in San Francisco, but could not remember from whom or how many—possibly five or six gross. She thought she bought some bottles, but could not say how many. From F. W. Braun & Co., of Los Angeles. She had the engraving for Miss Dinsmore's printing done by a man named Hervey Friend, but did not know where Hervey Friend did business.

When shown a letter to Mrs. Bartlett, she admitted that the address on the envelope appeared to have been done by her father-in-law, but thought it was somewhat better than he could do. Witness said she could not remember what lines of railroad she and her husband and her father had traveled over in coming to California and making their trip East.

She had kept account books of her business, but could not remember what had become of them. Possibly they were destroyed. Referring to a "puff" in one of the pretended newspaper clippings, in which she was said to employ seven typewriters and three or four women bottle-fillers, Mrs. Willard said she could not remember how long she had the force on hand.

A letter to Mrs. Dinsmore, in which Mrs. Willard said she had four applicants for the branch agency at Angela's Camp, was shown her and she was asked for the letters from the four applicants. She did not know where they were.

Witness owned the "Egyptian Mist" business. She had bought the names of the pretended agents from two Eastern firms, but could not remember how much was paid for them. They might have cost anywhere from $10 to $100.

C. D. Willard took the stand and testified that he bought the agents' names and paid $10 a thousand for some, and $7 for the others.

Postoffice Inspector M. H. Flint testified that he had investigated "Beauty Wonder" business before the prosecution of the family was thought of. Mrs. Harrison of San Francisco, a toilet article dealer, had absolutely nothing to do with the prosecution. Mr. Denis explained the introduction of this evidence with the statement that it was intended to rebut the insinuation thrown out by the defense that the Willards were being persecuted by a business rival in the person of Mrs. Harrison.

United States Marshal N. A. Covarrubias testified that at the time of the arrest of the Willard family, C. D. Willard told him that a firm in the East, for whom he had worked, had been indicted by the grand jury; that the indictment had been quashed; that the firm had cleared $200,000 while in business, and that he had concluded to go into the same kind of business, but had not made much money out of it.

The trial was continued to tomorrow.

SYMPATHY FOR CUBA.

East Siders Recognize the Rebels as Belligerents.

There was a meeting of the citizens of the First Ward at the East Los Angeles Baptist Church last evening to express sympathy in behalf of Cuban patriots in their present struggle for freedom and independence. There was a fair-sized audience, and the music by Connor's Orchestra was especially good. Councilman George W. Stockwell presided; O. N. Raney was elected secretary. Speeches were delivered by Judges Ling, George E. Dye and W. H. Nelmeier. The following resolutions were passed, after which the citizens were called upon to sign a petition.

"Whereas, as citizens of these United States, we cannot feel indifferent concerning the growth of republican form of government on the American continent, and the islands adjacent thereto; and

"Whereas, we believe the highest degree of happiness for a people claiming to be civilized consists in the acquisition of such forms of government as tend to promote the greatest good of the greatest number; and

"Whereas, a systematic rule of oppression by a government, whether State or ecclesiastical, or both, tends to thwart the highest aspirations of any people subjected thereto; and

"Whereas, the government of the island of Cuba by Spain has been an unbroken reign of tyranny, extortion and perjury, tending to keep the masses in ignorance and poverty, furnishing no incentive to build a higher civilization, and offering no inducement to her other provinces to improve their conditions; we hereby

"Resolve, that we sympathize with the present uprising of the Cubans against the longer domination of Spanish despotism, and that we earnestly hope for their success in throwing off the yoke of a degenerate monarchy and establishing a republic in that gem of the ocean, 'The Queen of the Antilles.'"

"Resolved, that we earnestly request our representative in Congress to support any resolution looking to the recognition, as belligerents of the Cuban patriots in their struggle for freedom."

"Resolved, that a copy of these resolutions be sent to Hon. James McLachlan as an expressive of the sense of the citizens of the First Ward, assembled."

"The Substitute."

This stirring story of a freshman on the field is written in Mr. Camp's most vigorous manner, and will thrill the heart of every boy who loves foot-ball. Dick Goddard, the hero, is a boy's-boy, every inch of him, a manly, plucky chap, whose modesty and grit win him the favor of the great athletes at a big university. How he played with the famous team and made the decisive touchdown at the fall games, is splendidly told.

H. A. Ogden, whose handsome pictures add much to the value of this story, is closely identified with Mr. Camp, having illustrated all of his athletic articles and stories published in the Century Magazine and St. Nicholas.

MALICIOUS MISCHIEF.

A Few New Pranks Played on Halloween Night.

Last night was Halloween, and there were the usual pranks played by small boys, as well as by children of the larger growth.

Special instructions were issued to the police, and during the evening, the offenders were brought to the police station at such short intervals that Clerk Hensley was a very busy man, cooking them and looking after their effects. Rattle-boxes, which gave forth horrible noises, a screw-driver for unhinging gates, and other contrivances for making mischief were found in the possession of the lads who were brought in.

At about 8:30 o'clock, Officer Long was riding down Figueroa street on his bicycle, when he heard discordant sounds a short distance away. He proceeded to investigate and found the noise came from four boys in a light wagon. They had a pail of water in the wagon and were throwing clippers of it at pedestrians. One of the unfortunate who was doused was a Mr. Steele, who lives at No. 204 New High street. Mr. Steele had on his best clothes and was greatly incensed at having his finery deluged on such a beautiful night. Had he expected rain he would have carried an umbrella.

Officer Long rode up beside the rig the young hoodlums were driving and he, too, was treated to a dipperful of the water, thrown squarely in his face. They then turned so as to cross the officer's path and he had a narrow escape from being run down. The officer states furthermore that they hurled insulting remarks at him. He arrested all of them. At the station they gave their names as Leo and Paul Nott, Charles Linchenbard and H. W. Kircher.

Among the others arrested during the evening, charged with malicious mischief, were: James Moore, arrested on Fourth street by Officer Houston; Adolph Felthousner, Pico street; Officer Long; Albert Vallant, Ninth and Main streets; Officer Arguello; Augustus Grigalva, and A. Heibach, Buena Vista street; Officer Phillips; Garcia, Upper Main street; Officer Rico.

Leamer Harris, John Ross and Fred Forrester, students in the High School, were carrying a big barber pole on Fourth street last evening and were seen by Officer Rico. Rico rang up the patrol wagon, and in a few moments the three were hustled off to the police station. They had evidently anticipated trouble, for they showed to the officer and Police Clerk Bean a bill of sale for the pole. The bill didn't dispose of the suspicion that the real owner did not want to invest in a barber pole was, and the boys were booked for malicious mischief. They will be arraigned at 3:30 o'clock today in the Police Court, where they are charged with a heavy burden around on Halloween night.

MUSICAL MENTION.

An enjoyable and largely-attended concert was given last evening at the First Methodist Episcopal Church, for the benefit of the choir fund of that church. C. S. Cornell was in charge of the programme, and Mrs. Ogilvie rendered the accompaniments.

The University Ladies' Quartette, consisting of Miss Grace Whitehorn, first soprano, Miss Maud Wentworth, second soprano, Mrs. Edith Brown Young, first alto, and Miss Letitia Williams, second alto, sang several numbers very creditably. Mrs. Huebner gave a violin solo. Mr. Cornell gave a vocal solo, and with Mr. Zinck, sang a duet, and there were several selections by the choir.

The Thousand Club.

Last evening was held the first meeting of the Thousand Club. This is a club organized within the membership of the Young Men's Christian Association for the purpose of pushing the number of members to 1000 by January 1, 1936.

The following officers were elected: President, Thornton Fitzhugh; vice-president, Prentice Lebus; secretary, W. T. Forsyth. Plans were discussed for attaining the object of the club and arrangements were made for a banquet to be held in about a month.

At the banquet, which was a social hour was spent over nuts and fruit. H. D. Hunt, J. H. E. Barnes and G. F. Mead furnished some good music on the flute, guitar and mandolin.

Chamber of Commerce.

There were received at the Chamber of Commerce yesterday the following exhibits: Australian salt bush, from Lord & Walton, Los Angeles; Kasiline, from A. B. Shea, Calico; strawberries and guavas, from T. B. Hoffman, South Pasadena; pearmain apples, from Mrs. Mary E. Benson, West Vernon; royal red strawberries, from J. A. Wood, Highland Park; ripe bananas, from William Garner, Los Angeles.

Fire on a Roof.

The fire department was called out at 1:45 o'clock yesterday afternoon on account of a small blaze that had started from the heating of some tar on the roof of the building at the northwest corner of Aliso and Alameda streets. The place is owned by Charles Fauer. The damage was nominal.

PARK BOARD INVESTIGATING PROPOSED BOULEVARD.

Sewer Committee Favors Repair of City Hall Plumbing Under Less Costly Plans.

Juan Castaneda Discharged—Another Dog-Killing Case—Complaints Against Rags by Mayes. Boy Sent to Whittier.

The Sewer Committee yesterday decided to recommend that new plans be prepared for the City Hall replumbing. The Park Commission took action intended to protect the parks from questionable influences and decided to drive over the route of the proposed boulevard today.

The Courthouse was very quiet again yesterday and the only case which drew any spectators was the trial of Juan Castaneda. Juan Castaneda was discharged upon the confession of the state's attorney that her testimony was false. The grand jury was in session, and the Board of Supervisors had a busy day.

AT THE CITY HALL.

PARK COMMISSION.

Discussion Over the Proposed Boulevard—Other Business.

The Park Commission met informally yesterday morning and discussed the matter of the proposed boulevard connecting Westlake and Elysian parks. After the discussion the regular meeting of the board was held. All the members were present.

The proposition of P. M. Scott to donate a strip of land 100 feet wide in lot 2, block 41, and lot 6, block 42, Hancock's Survey, was referred to the City Engineer, with a request that he report as to the practicability of the proposition. The proposition is to locate the proposed boulevard pass through Mr. Scott's property and enter Elysian Park near where what may be termed the southwest corner of the park, traversing a considerable distance further north before entering the park.

The Superintendent was instructed to employ J. W. Potts as a special force, he to serve the pleasure of the board. Mr. Potts is one of the early settlers of the city and a prominent part in its advancement.

A proposition of a Mr. Land to occupy the small stand on the east side of Westlake Park for the sale of refreshments was referred to a committee. P. Myers, one of the laborers in the parks, was detailed as a special park policeman, to be on duty from 1 p. m. till 12 p. m.

The Superintendent was instructed to have fifty more seats made for the parks. The matter of the proposed construction of benches at Echo Park was referred to a committee consisting of Commissioner Teed and Superintendent Meserve.

Commissioner Post and the Superintendent were appointed a committee to investigate as to the most suitable plans for a bandstand at East Los Angeles park.

STREET-SWEEPING CONTRACT.

Board of Public Works Members Define Their Position.

Members of the Board of Public Works claim that an injustice has been done to the board in the matter of the letting of the contract for street sweeping. They say that the reason for adopting the same specifications as those in operation under the present contract is that, although the specifications have been changed, the result is the same, there appears to be no form of specifications that would give more general satisfaction.

They say that was the personal desire of members of the board that the provision requiring the board to examine the street for the purpose of determining whether or not the work should be struck out, was considered, however, that to make such a change in the specifications would render the members of the board charge that they were attempting to shirk their duty, and avoid a responsibility.

It was for this reason that the specifications were left as they were.

SIDEWALKS AND CURBS.

City Engineer's Authority to Withhold Certificates Questioned.

The City Engineer is having trouble with a number of contractors relative to the acceptance of work done on certain streets. Outlets in a number of places, the City Engineer finds, are not laid in accordance with the specifications and there is a general disregard of the requirements for sidewalks and curbing.

The specifications for both sidewalks and curbs require that for a depth of one-half inch below the surface of the sidewalk there be a mixture of one part cement to one part of sand. Underneath this surfacing the work consists of concrete composed of sand and cement. The purpose of the surfacing is to have the completed work present a smooth finish and at the same time be sufficiently solid to prevent it from cracking after a few months, as is the case where the surfacing is made thinner than the specifications call for.

In many cases where examinations have been made it has been found that the surfacing, instead of being one-half inch thick, as the specifications require, is almost as thin as paper.

The appearance in such a case is as if the contractor had made the entire side of the sidewalk or curb of concrete and had then sprinkled a little clear cement on the surface. By this means a smooth finish has been secured and from a superficial examination of the work one would be led to the belief that the job had been well done. At the same time the extra quantity of cement which would be required to make the work according to specifications saved to the contractor, who is so much the gainer.

Ever a time after its completion the work bears no appearance of faulty construction, but after a few months cracks appear and, after a year or more, accidental indentations in the surface are gradually ground away until holes of considerable size are to be seen where there should be nothing but a smooth, hard surface.

Another fault which the City Engineer finds in the sidewalk work in numerous cases, is that the walk is of the proper thickness at the outer edges, but will perhaps be nearly an inch thinner in the middle, thus effecting a saving of material to the contractor. This lack of thickness is liable to cause the walk to settle unevenly and crack.

The question as to whether the City Engineer can withhold certificates from the contractor when he finds that work has been done in a faulty manner, as above stated, has given rise to different legal opinions on the question.

One opinion has it that only the question of the work being on line and grade comes under the City Engineer and that that official has nothing to say as to whether it has been done in accordance with specifications. The State law under which street work is done appears to be somewhat ambiguous on this subject, and other legal opinions have been expressed that the questioned authority lies with the City Engineer.

CITY HALL PLUMBING.

Sewer Committee Recommends to Readvise for Bids.

The matter of the proposed replumbing of the City Hall, to the necessity of which attention was some time ago directed, is being taken up before the Sewer Committee at yesterday's meeting of that body. It came up in the form of the two bids for the work, which were received by the City Council last Monday and referred to the committee.

The bids were about $7000 each. The specifications on which the bids were figured provide for the taking out of all the plumbing and fixtures and replacing them with new ones.

The bids showed that the work would cost more than the members of the committee thought it best to pay, and so it was decided to recommend to the City Council that new plans and specifications be prepared. It is understood to be the intention to have the new plans and specifications provide for the retaining of most of the closets, urinals and fixtures now in use, and to have new sanitary connections put in. By such an arrangement it is hoped to make the necessary repairs at a much smaller sum than was named in the bids received.

The recommendation of the board as decided on, accordingly, is that the proposition to replumb the City Hall be referred to the City Engineer, with a request that he report as to the practicability of the proposition. The proposition is to locate the proposed boulevard pass through Mr. Scott's property and enter Elysian Park near where what may be termed the southwest corner of the park, traversing a considerable distance further north before entering the park.

The Superintendent was instructed to employ J. W. Potts as a special force, he to serve the pleasure of the board. Mr. Potts is one of the early settlers of the city and a prominent part in its advancement.

AT THE COURTHOUSE.

THE COURTS.

Juan Castaneda Released from a False Charge.

Juan Castaneda, accused of a criminal assault upon his step-daughter, Paula Estrada, was taken before Justice Young yesterday for preliminary examination, but Deputy District Attorney Willis at once dismissed the case. The whole thing was a trumped-up charge, and the girl was frightened by the fear of examination into confession that she had lied about the matter, and that she assent upon her had been made. The whole charge was manufactured from spite and revenge, arising from a dispute over property.

A Lively Time.

The sixty witnesses subpoenaed in the trial of Mae Mayes for cattle-stealing were blocking up the corridor in front of Department Six yesterday, and the trial was delayed in sight with gallons of tobacco juice.

The attempt is now being made by the defense to show that Yaldo Ruiz, the old Mexican who helped the blue-stripe out of existence, is the real culprit, and that this charge against Mayes, in which Ruiz is the principal witness for the prosecution, is a mere concoction. The Mexican in revenge for a thrashing with which Mayes once favored him.

Wants to Go to Whittier.

Judge Shaw yesterday committed twelve-year-old Charlie Colbath to Whittier on the charge of incorrigibility preferred against the youngster by his mother. The boy himself was resigned, even cheerful, and expressed a hope that the Reform School would be just the place to cure his particular variety of cussedness. That variety seemed to be all-embracing, but Charlie has a genial philosophy of life which may make a man of him yet.

Another Dog-Killing Case.

J. R. Gager was yesterday arraigned before Justice Young on the charge of indiscriminate slaughter of dogs in his neighborhood. Gager asserts that the dogs came from the place and killed his chickens, and the whole case is put all chicken-killing dogs out of existence.

The last dog killed was a large, fine animal belonging to Edward Bones of Vernon. The dog was a pet, and was used to being driven in harness by Mr. Bones' little boy, and the whole family are indignant at its death. The trial was set for November 5 at 10 a. m.

An Opinion Given.

Glover et al. regarding findings and judgment first in favor of the plaintiff in the sum of $1000 and interest, and in favor of the German-American Savings Bank for a second lien to the extent of the amount claimed by the bank. The decision is given after a second trial of the case, which was appealed from the former judgment by the German-American Savings Bank, one of the defendants.

Charles Lee, dwelling, Seventh street near Main, $1000.

Walter A. Hancock, dwelling, Chicago street near Fourth, $1000.

The Lot Filled.

A desirable improvement has been accomplished at the southwest corner of Sixth street and Park View avenue. This place a few months ago was a pool of water filled with decaying vegetation and giving forth foul odors. The only drainage was through a small pipe leading into the sewer. The City Engineer endeavored to pump the water out of the hole, but the inflow of water was so great that the attempt was unsuccessful. The statement of the nuisance was a difficult problem to dispose of, but the lot has since been filled in, and from the present appearance one would suspect what was its former condition.

Wants to Sell.

Mr. Grubb of the Board of Education is advocating the sale of the Springfield school property. He says it ought to sell for about $200,000 and the proceeds could be used for the erection of an industrial school. There ought, he says, to be some money left for other purposes.

HOUSE AND LOT.

ANOTHER NORTH BROADWAY TRANSFER.

Business is still somewhat impeded by the rapidly-rising valuations.

The Traction System Extension Creating a Demand in the Southwest.

Hill Property Bought For The Ellis Tract-The Calhoun Country. Several Good Sales-Northwestern Improvements.

Quite a number of sales have been made during the past week, although many of the dealers still complain that business is dull. Yet, two years ago the amount of business that is now being transacted would have been regarded as indicative of a boom.

STILL MARKING UP PRICES.

Some of the dealers continue to complain that sales are checked by the confusion of the market. They say that they see any chance of selling. There is undoubtedly some foundation for this complaint. Some property owners make the mistake of supposing that every man who comes around to inquire the price of a piece of property intends to buy. They get the idea that there are a number of people in the market after their property, become excited and raise the price, after which they may wait some time to find a chance to sell. The fact is, that the buyers in the market today are, as a rule, very careful, purchasing for investment, not for speculation. They generally get prices on a number of pieces of property before making a selection. It is this that has led some sanguine property owners to believe that the woods are full of buyers, and that all they have to do is to name the price they want for their property. A practice which tends to increase the confusion in this direction is the bad one of giving one piece of property into the hands of several agents for sale, a practice which the Times has frequently shown to be very unwise. It has frequently happened that when a man has a piece of property for sale, he has several agents inquiring. The investor may drop in on each of these agents and make a bid for the property, whereupon the agents rush to the owner, who, thinking he has the world at his feet, as it were, ohakes up his price, and the would-be investor goes elsewhere. The Los Angeles real estate men are refusing to handle property unless they are given the exclusive sale of it. They should stick to this rule.

SOUTH BROADWAY SALE.

Speculators are beginning to look far south on Broadway. The most important sale of the week was of a lot at the southwest corner of Broadway and Ninth, 100x150 feet to a twelve foot alley. It was sold by Albert A. Hubbard to J. D. Cooker for $225,000. Mr. Hubbard will continue to reside on the lot for a year. The price is a fair one. It will show a big profit within a couple of years.

HILL PROPERTY.

As the winter approaches there is more inquiry for property on the hills. In sections where no rain has been shown, that oil does not probably exist. Even the oil wells are not so much of a nuisance as they were, since regulations have been enforced there. Some residents of the southwestern part of town who have been through one or two rainy seasons have begun to look with more longing on the more elevated sections of the city. The lots are in demand for property in that neighborhood. Just north of the park the Nob Hill tract is being graded and put into good shape. This tract commands a fine view of the surrounding country. Lots are offered at prices ranging from $500 to $1500.

THE ELLIS TRACT.

A small but choice tract has just been placed on the market, consisting of a portion of the Ellis home place. There are nine lots fronting on Twenty-third street, improved with fine trees, shrubbery, etc. The lots are of liberal size, running from 52 to 60 feet wide and 150 deep. This is choice property and the lots will be snapped up during the next few months by people of means who are looking for residence sites in a first-class neighborhood.

WEST ADAMS STREET.

The assurance of the extension of the Traction Company's system out west, beyond the city limits, has created a good demand for property in that section and several sales have already been made. On the northwest corner of Adams and Rosedale avenue ten acres were recently sold by Mrs. E. Moore to Sarah A. Rowley for $150,000. The purchaser will first put the tract in first-class shape and then offer it for sale in small lots.

A GOOD CORNER.

One of the noteworthy sales of the week was that of the northwest corner of Pico and Flower streets, 113 by 157 feet, which was sold by A. T. Currier to R. H. Howell for $7000. This is a fine corner, both for Pico and Flower being rapidly-improving thoroughfares. The corner of Pico and Pearl promises before long to become quite an important outside business center, and there are some who believe that not a few middle-aged citizens of Los Angeles will live to see the business center of the city within half a mile of that corner, if not exactly there.

A GOOD BUY.

Another sale made during the past week was that of the southwest corner of Sixth and Wall streets, 50 by 150 feet, for $2500, to M. M. Potter. This is certainly a cheap piece of property within two blocks of Main street, and only a few minutes' walk from the postoffice. Such well located corners, close in, are rapidly becoming scarce and are being snapped up by shrewd investors while they can be had at prices that promise a profit of 100 per cent. within a couple of years.

THE LICK TRACT.

One of the sections that will benefit largely by the construction of the Bellevue-avenue electric line is that known as the Lick tract, lying south-east of the foothills of the Calhoun Valley. In this section quite a number of good improvements have been made during the past year by men of means, who have built attractive homes. During the past week William Hamlin has sold ten acres near Hollywood to Hugh Vickroy at $250 an acre. It is rich in other cities. The buildings vary as much as the minds of the men who build them, and the people who live in them often have as much to say about the arrangement and finish as the men who build their own mansions, and pay cash for them when they are finished. "A home can be built in a select quarter, or bought after it is finished, by any one who has from $100 to $500 cash, and who is of a thrifty nature and economically inclined. Families who do not own their own homes must pay rent, and if the head of a house is thrifty enough to pay his rent regularly, he is able to buy his own home, provided he can save from $100 to $500 to make the first payment. The payments required by capitalists after a house is purchased are only from $15 to $40 a month, in accordance with the value of the property and the cost of the house.

"No one need fear his inability to make the monthly payments if he is as industrious as he before moving into his own home, for any one who can pay his rent promptly can buy his own home without any more worry than if he were paying rent. The feeling of ownership in land or of owning the roof that shelters the family is ample compensation for all the worries that have been gone through, and if one is not understood by one who has felt the pleasure of calling his home his own. When the family once realize that the property is theirs, then if only the next money is paid, the husband and wife and children at once begin to take better care of everything. They plant trees, shrubs and flowers, they garden patches and flower beds, and keep everything in repair. They know that from now on there will be no more complaints to make to the agent when the rent is paid, about repairs and other necessary things about the place.

"After acquiring a house on the monthly installment plan the purchaser begins to feel his responsibility and so does the family. They realize that monthly notes are to be paid, and though they may be living masters, they begin to economize and save up. In a short time they often find themselves with money enough ahead to take up several notes, and in a few years the interest. When this is done the greatest lesson in economy that can be taught to a household is that a person who has gone through these trifles, which may seem hardships at first, and has accomplished his goal, he is not to do a house—would never go back to renting if he had to live the life over again and undergo hardships.

"It is said to be true that only 2 per cent. of the people who embark in the venture of home-buying on monthly payments ever fail.

ANOTHER NORTH BROADWAY SALE.

Two weeks ago The Times reported the sale of a lot on North Broadway to T. W. Brotherton of the Citizens' Bank. As mentioned a few days ago in the business column, the same gentleman has acquired the Mappa lot, sixty feet square, on the south side of Franklin street, just off North Broadway. Should this high street be widened to thirty feet, this tract will make a valuable business corner. The price is understood to have been between $9000 and $10,000, or a little more, $1100, which is certainly low for a lot so conveniently located within a short distance of the business center of the city. It is understood that the former owner was forced to let the property go at this low figure through financial stringency.

ANOTHER NEW TRACT.

One of the latest tracts to be placed on the market is the Florida tract, located a short distance west of Pearl street, between Seventh and Ninth. While the owners of this tract stretch across a little when they say that it is a "little southwest of the business center," it is certainly centrally located in relation to the choicest residence section of the city, and will very likely within ten years be within half a mile of the business center. The tract is within a short distance of three lines of street, and is a building restriction which forbids the erection of any residence costing less than $1000. The whole tract varies in size from 60x123 feet to 40x137 feet, are offered at prices ranging from $1100 to $1200.

NORTHWESTERN IMPROVEMENTS.

Residents in the northwestern part of the city have been rejoicing during the past week over the opening of the new electric line on Bellevue avenue. That improvement is likely to be followed before long by several others, and it looks as if this, the most neglected section of Los Angeles, would soon come to the front and take its place in the race for population. The old mule car line which formerly ran up 150 feet Ocean boulevard, near the intersection of the electric line and which looks as if this, the most neglected section of Los Angeles, would soon come to the front and take its place in the race for population. The old mule car line which formerly ran up 150 feet Ocean boulevard, near the intersection of the electric line and which looks as if this, the most neglected section of Los Angeles, would soon come to the front and take its place in the race for population.

SMALLER RESIDENCE LOTS.

As a rule, lots in the new residence tracts that are laid out nowadays are of the regulation Los Angeles size, 50 by 150 feet. Occasionally smaller lots are platted, and it must be expected that as the population of the city becomes more dense and property more valuable the tendency will be to smaller lots. It is, of course, quite a temptation to the owner of a tract to reduce the size of his lots a few feet and thus make the price apparently cheaper, but the average purchaser understands that the difference between a lot 50 by 150 feet in size and one 40 by 125 is exactly 2-1/3 per cent. of the superficial area. That is to say, if a lot 50 by 150 feet is worth 20 cents per square foot, or $1500, a lot 40 by 125 in the same locality should only be worth $1000.

THE INSTALLMENT PLAN.

The Times has frequently referred with approval to the progress that has been made in the installment plan of selling homes in Los Angeles. Undoubtedly this is a most advantageous method of building up a city—advantageous not only to citizens who are thus enabled to acquire homes, but also to a city, which thus acquires a large class of people who have, as it were, given bonds to be citizens. That is to say, they have something at stake in the community, something to lose. Such citizens will seldom be found among the lawless, or unruly, or unreasonable classes. The San Francisco Chronicle recently published the following truthful remarks on the advantages of the installment plan of selling and buying homes:

"Although there has been considerable investment of money in lots for residence purposes this season on account of improved street-car facilities, low real estate values and cheap building material, there might have been made a much better showing had more families been willing to devote their monthly remittances to the purchase of homes in any of the many desirable residence portions of San Francisco.

"Much of the home-building we see would never have been done were it not for the men with capital who have erected houses for others and accepted payment for them in small monthly installments. The tracts that have been subdivided, graded, sewered and otherwise improved are the first to be selected by the home-buyer and the men who build houses, because they are nearly always on the line of quick transportation. You can imagine what the picture of some of our villas would be if the home-builder had had a ready source than his ready cash to build a home after he had acquired the land. Instead of the stately and handsome homes of brick and stone, where we would see frame structures or the cheapest construction of brick houses, without the least attempt at artistic finish. Instead of that, our residence sections are graced with many of the most modern, the most artistic and the best finished houses ever seen in any city.

"Many of our select places, where the homes of our middle classes are, present a more exclusive and ornate appearance than the select quarters of the rich in other cities. The buildings vary as much as the minds of the men who build them, and the people who live in them often have as much to say about the arrangement and finish as the men who build their own mansions, and pay cash for them when they are finished.

FLATTERING STATISTICS.

The American Land and Title Register recently published some interesting figures showing the real estate business in thirty-two large cities of the United States, for the months of July and August, 1935, with a comparison between August, 1935, and August, 1934, showing the percentage of increase or decrease. The average increase for the cities is 15 per cent. It will be a surprise to many that Los Angeles shows a decrease of 13 per cent. in August 1935, over August 1934. When we come to examine the reasons for this, we find that the real estate business in Los Angeles is not so good as it looks. The following is the statement of transfers of various cities for the month of August, 1935:

	Aug. 1935.	Aug. 1934.
New York	$9,400,000	$8,400,000
Chicago	2,300,000	2,200,000
Philadelphia	2,250,000	2,200,000
St. Louis	2,200,000	2,200,000
San Francisco	1,200,000	1,200,000
Buffalo	1,200,000	1,200,000
Montreal	931,500	931,500
Pittsburgh	1,350,000	1,350,000
Washington	1,025,000	1,025,000
San Antonio	1,025,000	1,025,000
Minneapolis	963,751	963,751
Louisville	354,017	354,017
Omaha	260,700	260,700
Rochester	260,700	260,700
St. Paul	365,337	365,337
Kansas City	770,361	770,361
Denver	770,361	770,361
Indianapolis	742,654	742,654
Portland, Or.	287,585	287,585
Toledo	400,000	400,000
Nashville	241,065	241,065
Lincoln	203,000	203,000
Atlanta	407,042	407,042
Los Angeles	1,155,636	1,350,000
Grand Rapids	287,585	287,585
Seattle	497,272	497,272
Dallas	584,848	584,848
Tacoma	312,268	312,268
Galveston	152,585	152,585
Sioux Falls	150,000	150,000
Niagara Falls	293,800	293,800
San Diego	201,000	201,000

From this it will be seen that Los Angeles stands ninth in the volume of real estate transfers among the leading cities of the country, ranking ahead of such cities as Minneapolis, Louisville, Omaha, St. Paul, Kansas City, Denver and Indianapolis, and being only about $16,000 behind San Francisco. The reason for a decline in transfers as compared with the same month of 1934 may doubtless be found in the fact that the attention of many of the real estate owners and dealers at present is largely directed to improving the property which they own. This view is confirmed by the fact that the operations in seventeen cities of the United States for August, 1935, and 1934, published in the same journal. In this case the average decrease in transfers was only 3 1/2 per cent.—some of them showing a decrease—whereas the large figure of over 42 per cent. following is the table:

	Aug. 1934.	Aug. 1935.
Chicago	$3,507,000	$3,267,000
Philadelphia	1,403,731	1,288,731
Brooklyn	905,000	1,280,820
Cincinnati	243,985	221,777
St. Louis	852,000	2,497,690
New Orleans	445,765	445,765
Pittsburgh	402,859	231,314
Washington	222,400	323,000
Detroit	423,000	271,700
Minneapolis	265,045	241,420
Omaha	39,608	32,449
St. Paul	97,734	151,375
Denver	42,300	75,000
Indianapolis	203,611	285,749
Los Angeles	195,210	162,955
Portland, Or.	72,000	101,585
Cleveland	242,320	61,526
Totals	$9,322,641	$13,410,521

Here we see that Los Angeles ranked sixth in building operations among these seventeen important cities. Certainly a most flattering record.

The Model Shoe Store and the Model Last.

William Gibson occupies his new quarters in the New Courier Building, Third Street, between Spring and Broadway.

A Fine Establishment.

Tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock William Gibson, the shoe merchant, who for several weeks past has been laboring with grim determination to close out all his old stock, Nov. 13 and 14 North Spring street before November 1, in order that he might on that date open in the new store with an entirely new and much finer stock, will see the fruition of his hopes. At the hour named the great doors of the new store, the just-completed and much-admired Currier building, will swing open, and the public will be invited to inspect a stock of "exclusively men's" shoes that for extent, variety and freshness is probably without a peer in California.

In addition to the staples in the shoe line as ordinarily produced by manufacturers of established reputation, Mr. Gibson has provided a great many specimens of what may well be called art, or at least artistic, shoemaking—goods of a kind that ordinarily are seen only at great fairs, such as the Columbian Exhibition, or the one at present in progress at Atlanta—shoes that are essentially works of art.

This feature will doubtless attract much attention tomorrow, and it is no visitor should miss it. The display in the same line at the late Midwinter Fair at San Francisco, though possibly larger, was not a whit better.

The new styles of enameled, calf and russet shoes, with double sole, Scotch edge, calf-lined, or winter use, the new patent-leathers, and very latest toe, the art of new and perfectly irrefragable designs in slippers—these are some of the specialties that will be particularly admired. And it will be freely admitted by everybody that Mr. Gibson has provided many novelties, more goods than on the face of them are first-class and up-to-date, than have ever been seen before in a single store.

To satisfy people, however, the most interesting thing of all will be the new last which, now, after fifteen years of experimenting, Mr. Gibson first, in a general way, introduces to the public.

PHOENIX MAKES A BID FOR THE BIG PRIZE FIGHT.

Unprecedented Building Boom in Progress at the Territorial Capital.

A Magazine Article on the Wham Robbery Reflects Unjustly on Some Persons.

Big Water Suit in Progress—Phoenix Driving Association Incorporated—Indian Football Players.

Mr. Wyncoop's Mule.

PHOENIX, Oct. 30.—(Regular Correspondence.) Phoenix would like the Corbett-Fitzsimmons prizefight. Last night word to that effect was wired to the big bruisers. The offer was a purse of $50,000 in case the mill was pulled off in Phoenix. Immunity from arrest was also promised. As to the latter question, however, the grounds are not very plain. It seems that Governors are insurmountable barriers to prizefights. Certainly Gov. Hughes can be relied on to follow the example of Gov. Culbertson of Texas and Clarke of Arkansas, for he is of the anti-prizefight order. However that may be, the promise was made. The Phoenix Athletic Club were around the city yesterday, looking into prospects for subscriptions, and found them such as to justify the offer. No answer has yet been received.

AMATEUR ENGINEER SCALDED. Masters McClure and Pullman, living near the Mexican and Pacific depot, yesterday set up as fireman and engineer of a boiler of their own construction. The boiler was a large coal-oil can. That a great pressure might be obtained, they plugged the hole with a cork. McClure fired up and soon had all the pressure required; in fact, a little more than calculated on. While leaning over his fire, the plug blew out. The boy was badly scalded. The steam enveloped him and his face was peeled almost clean of skin. His sufferings were pitiful. The boy will recover, but will not play steam engine again in a hurry.

BUILDING NOTES.

Building progress here was never greater in the history of Phoenix. In every part of the business district may be seen new buildings, many still in progress of building. New brick blocks have become almost an every-day matter. The latest building of importance promised is an opera-house. This it is proposed to build at the corner of Adams and Second avenues. The structure and equipment will cost $150,000. The plans are yet in the hands of the architects. Last night Architect Heinlein left for Los Angeles, to see San Diego. The present opera-house here is small, and the acoustics poor. The adobe building on Adams and Second, which is to be replaced by the new one, will be razed next month, and replaced with a modern brick business block, 50x100 feet. The syndicate organized a few days ago to build a large block on the present site of Chinatown have elected a board of directors. It is known as the Phoenix Building and Improvement Company, with the following directors: A. V. Quinn, president; Dr. L. H. Goodrich, vice-president; T. W. Hines, secretary; S. D. Lount, treasurer. The Chinese will vacate November 1, and the premises will be razed at once. A fine four-story block will replace it. Desirable houses to rent are becoming more and more scarce daily. The building of residence properties to rent in Phoenix would be a good investment.

INDIANS AS FOOTBALLISTS.

The boys of the Indian school near the city are being trained as footballists. Their coarse fibers are well adapted to the rough bruises and tumbles of the game. They go in without pads or protectors, and are as tough as iron in their work. They had a good trainer in H. F. Liston, one of the instructors of the school. It is a sight to do an athlete's heart good to see these young fellows form a wedge and start with a ball. The only trouble with this "Injun" team is that they are required by the school authorities to play only once a week, and occasionally a few days ago the Phoenix team issued a challenge to any team in Arizona for a game. The Indians will accept the challenge. The first of a series of games between the two teams will be played November 6.

A BIG SUIT.

Arguments are now in progress here in a big water suit. Ex-Atty-Gen. Herling of Tombstone has for the past two days been attacking the Phoenix River Valley Canal, against the majority stockholders of the canal company, the Arizona Canal Company. The claim is made by the lesser stockholders that they get a third less water than formerly, although they were the first ditch on this side of the Salt River. Today Hugh Butler of Denver, representing the canal company, began his arguments. The entire week will be taken by the arguments of attorneys.

PHOENIX DRIVING ASSOCIATION.

The above is the name of a new organization here, purpose, the improvement of the breed of horses and to further the interests of horsemen in Arizona. American Trotting Association, which will govern all trotting races, while the California Blood Horse Association rules will cover the running events. The new organization starts out with a series of midwinter races, the date of which will probably be set at December 18, 19 and 20, with $5000 in premiums. At the head of the association are J. V. Quinn, president; M. H. Porter, vice-president; T. W. Pemberton, treasurer; C. M. Sturgeon, secretary; J. Gibson, D. Goodin, T. W. Pemberton and the president and vice-president, board of directors.

THE WAYS OF A MULE.

The peculiarities of the genus mule were thoroughly realized yesterday by S. C. Wyncoop. That gentleman was driving a mule, and the animal balked. An ice wagon happened along then, and, with the usual sense that animal is endowed with, it made a mad rush at the wagon. The ice wagon proved stronger than the vehicle to which the mule was attached, and the mule, driven by Wyncoop, was thrown heavily to the ground. He struck on his head, gashing it badly, and leaving him insensible. Then the mule ran away, stringing pieces of the wagon along. Finding he could not clear himself of the harness, he began baying, which melodious sound he kept up until the stable was reached.

SUIT OF INTEREST.

Three suits of more than ordinary interest have been filed in the past few days. Messrs. Toohy & George, contractors, have sued the Agua Fria Construction Company for an unpaid balance of $5000 on an account of $15,000, the amount being secured by a contractor's lien. Another case, entitled William Ruff, an insane person, vs. Jasper M. Rountree. Ruff was adjudged insane last May, and is now in the asylum. A few days before his commitment he transferred his property, valued at $5700, to Rountree. J. W. Walker was appointed Ruff's guardian, and it is he who brings suit for recovery of the property. His complaint alleges that at the time of the transfer the patient was not in his right mind. This claim is verified by the fact that there was no consideration. A will case is now before Probate Judge Crouse. Henry E. Murphy, son of Daniel Murphy, deceased, brings suit for his father's property. Young Murphy was cut off with $5, while the bulk of the property was willed to James H. Millan and daughter.

PHOENIX BREVITIES.

A seal has been adopted by the Board of Control. The periphery has the words, "Board of Control, Arizona Territory." Within is "1895," the year in which the board was created.

A carpenter working on a residence for E. Ganz fell eight feet, with a scaffold, breaking his leg.

The opium-smoking cases in the Recorder's Court have been dismissed on account of a defective complaint. The Chinese will be rearrested on a proper complaint.

TUCSON.

PHOENIX, Oct. 30.—(Regular Correspondence.) The fall doors opened wide for smuggling prisoners yesterday. In the defense of a Mexican woman of Bisbee, in whose house customs officers found ten gallons of mesal, the point of law was made by Attorney Bowman that is devolved upon the government to show that goods are contraband, which can only be done by proving by ocular evidence that they have been carried into the country. Thus view was sustained by the court, whereupon United States Dist. Atty. Ellwood moved the discharge of the defendant and of all other defendants similarly charged. Heretofore it has been the practice, and the practice has been sustained by the Supreme Court, when persons have been arrested with merchandise in their possession which is believed to have been smuggled, to throw upon the persons suspected the onus of showing that the entry was regular.

A BRUTAL MURDER.

Dan Mahoney, a miner from Olive, was found murdered under the Stone avenue bridge Sunday morning. His killing was sickening and brutal. His head had been smashed in with stones and brick. The skull was crushed over the left eye, and another ugly blow had been dealt over the other eye. The back of his head was likewise fractured. His death was the sequel of a spree. When last seen at 2 o'clock in the morning, he was with two Mexicans, a Mexican strumpet, Concepcion Alvarez, was arrested, as one able to throw light on the affair. She admitted being on the bridge with him, and that he had been with her part of the night before. Later she denied her story, as having been told when she was frightened. The motive of the crime was not known. Mahoney had had little or no money. He had been out of the hospital but a few days.

FUN IN COURT.

Among the prisoners arraigned Monday was Chappo Serio, supposed to be an Indian. The indictment—and a Federal indictment is a long and tedious document—was read through at English, after which Norris, the Papago interpreter, read it again to Chappo in the Papago language. Chappo listened patiently to the guttural interpretation of the government's complaint against him. When the indictment was finished and the interpreter asked him how he would plead, he replied in Spanish "I don't understand." The court was paralyzed and the bar was convulsed. When order was restored the court said to the Spanish interpreter: "Ask him what particular language he speaks." Chappo said he was a Mexican. The indictment was then read to him in Spanish and he pleaded not guilty.

PRESCOTT.

PHOENIX, Oct. 30.—(Regular Correspondence.) The murderer of old man Miller has been captured. That Arizona is a hard place for a criminal to escape is again being demonstrated. Hobart was captured by Sheriff Ruff, without any one being hurt but himself. He was believed by the Sheriff's people to have been headed for Phoenix. Therefore all Saturday night long they lay alongside the Black Canyon road did not come, but it was not his fault. He missed the road, and instead took the road to the Peck mine. Sunday morning, early they came along, and struck Hobart's trail. It had rained, meanwhile, and the tracks were not easily distinguishable. However, Arizona does not lose its Indians. After him, and escape was impossible. They followed him to a deserted cabin near the Peck mine. Here they hid. Presently a miner came along, and was confronted. Naturally the spectacle of several armed men springing out from the mine. The new comer was requested to decoy Hobart from the cabin. This was soon done, for on approaching, the murderer came out and asked the road to Phoenix. The officers were concealed on each side of the place. From one side Sheriff Ruff called to him to hold up his hands. He wheeled and drew his gun. Then Deputy Dillon from the other side yelled at him. He wheeled, and drew to shoot in the new direction. A volley followed from both sides. He dropped to effect in his wrist and he shot the Winchester. His capture was then easy. The only excuse he gives for the wanton murder he committed was that he was crazy drunk. In Arizona murder is not looked at as a crime, but as an exception. Feeling about him is strong.

what they indefinitely announced would be a lengthy trip. The trip proved very lengthy, indeed, for Green, for he has not returned yet. His body was found eight miles from Tempe in December, 1891. That his name was John Green was then learned by papers on his body, but not that he belonged here. The body had lain several days, and was partially eaten by coyotes. He had been shot through the body from behind, and had fallen into the fire, where his face was partially burned away. Then the dead man's death was supposed to be an inscrutable murder. Now it is probably solved. Lyman Follett did it. The body was disinterred this week by Wiley E. Jones, and from the skull was recognized as that of the John Green of Pima. One month after the two men left here, Follett returned with a genuine and regular power of attorney to dispose of Green's property. Green, he laconically explained had "skipped." Green had left to avoid the grand jury; this was believed. Green's ranch was sold by Follett, and that individual pocketed the proceeds—all on the power of attorney. Mrs. Green signed the deed under representation from Follett, and friends that it was all right. Soon after Follett did some "skipping" on his own account, being last heard from in Johannesburg. Follett secured the power of attorney from Green through threats of exposure, and then killed his victim when they reached a suitable spot. Mrs. Green is employed as a domestic here, thus supporting her three children. She has brought civil action here in the District Court for the recovery of the ranch property. The claim is made on two counts, that she was under age when the deed was signed, and that a power of attorney is void when the giver dies. A STORY OF THE WHAM ROBBERY.

The robbery of Paymaster Wham, from which Graham county got some unenviable notoriety, has been served up in story form in Harper's Magazine for November, under the title "A Tale of the Gila," by a witness in the case. The characters are under new names. Reviewing the tale the Tucson Citizen, in part, says:

"While some undesirable things are told, gross injustice is occasionally done. Notably in the case of Bishop Layton of Safford, who is known as 'Meecham' in the article. Instead of being a pardoned criminal to the robbery, he did his utmost to bring the perpetrators of the crime to justice. He spared none, not even his supposed friends and members of his own church. But, through some idiosyncrasy or other, inexplicable in face of the statement that the writer was a witness in the case, Bishop Layton, Webb, concededly the main spring and prime mover in the offense, and defense, is strictly not in it. Mark Smith, ex-Congressman, can in no wise feel complimented over his assignment, not only from the action he is made to take in the case, but the general opinions of several members of his constituency, whom he is made to say he can buy up at 75 cents a head. Paymaster Wham, the highest bazon and flash of the outfit, has been fairly well measured, although the big bubble could have been subjected to a rubber stamp without material injury to the plot. The trade on the jury smacks largely in accordance with the prevailing belief."

MESA.

MESA, Oct. 30.—(Regular Correspondence.) While playing about on the banks of one of the canals here, the infant child of Mr. and Mrs. Trent fell into the canal and was drowned. The little body was recovered, but too late for resuscitation.

J. Peterson has gone to the southern part of the Territory to purchase feeders in large numbers. The stock will be fattened on the valley alfalfa fields. Although the disposition of the feed, Dr. Rose, made as already related by The Times, while in the act of, as he supposed, killing a family, was enough, several queries have been presented since. In view of the fact that Burt has vanished. What motive had Rose for wishing to slay the Williams family? Why did Dr. Williams fear Rose would kill him, and yet make no effort to have him arrested? What has become of the $20,000 or $25,000 Burt had with him here to pay for the job? Last, but not least, why did Rose take a big file or blacksmith's rasp with him to do the killing, when he had a hammer and a revolver? A rasp is not a good weapon with which to commit murder, and the door had already been opened by Burt. Might it not be possible that Burt's story is a little weak, and that the pair had argued the shell exploded, and the powder-burned. A piece of the shell was buried in his brother's neck. The wound was painful but not dangerous. The new railroad is now within a mile and a half of town.

While James Sturgeon and a companion were cutting out steers yesterday, Sturgeon underwent an unusual accident. One steer turned on him and his horse. The horse was fearfully gored and dismembered, and started to run. When Mr. Sturgeon made a leap for life. He landed where the ground was rough, dislocating the ankle and breaking the bones of the joint. His horse died from his wounds, and mounting another, Mr. Sturgeon started home and rode three or four miles till he secured a veterinarian to finish the journey. Dr. Scroggs, who had been previously telephoned to, dressed the wound.

HE ODD FELLOWS AT SANTA ANA GLORIOUSLY CELEBRATE.

he Coming Bicycle Events—A Hobo Outrigger on Officer at Santa Ana River Race—Protected. Brief News Notes and Personal.

SANTA ANA, Oct. 31.—(Regular Correspondence.) Spurgeon's Hall was crowded to its full capacity last night for those invited to attend the celebration of the twentieth anniversary of Santa Ana Lodge No. 236, I.O.O.F., on before the first number on the programme was announced every chair was occupied, and the meager space in the rear of the hall had been appropriated by many who uncomplainingly stood throughout the entertainment, willingly foregoing the comforts of a seat for the pleasure afforded by the excellent programme.

The auditorium and stage had been artistically decorated by the Rebekahs, assisted by members of the entertaining organization, and the piano by Miss Frazee, the result of their handiwork was beautiful and appropriate.

The programme opened with an overture by Leonard's orchestra, following which came the opening ode by members of the order.

Hon. J. W. Bunker delivered the oration, in which he gave a brief but interesting history of Santa Ana lodge no. 236, and the history of the order.

Following the address came a song by local quartette, composed of Messrs. Jack Baker, Ernie and Hurd, which elicited hearty applause, as did the ext. number, a violin solo, "Tarentella" (J. Raff), by Prof. and Miss Chabrier.

Miss Winston of Los Angeles rendered a vocal solo, which was highly appreciated by the audience. She was accompanied by the piano by Miss Frazee.

Part II of the programme was preceded by remarks appropriate to the occasion, by Rev. E. B. Watson.

Emil Goepfer's cornet solo and a song "Master Garner composed the musical features of part II, and in both instances the performers acquitted themselves very creditably.

The tableaux by the Rebekahs, which included Ruth, Naomi and Rebekah characters, were well received, and served as a sublime prelude to the ridiculous farce entitled "The Haunted House," by the Green McCarty Comedy company. The personnel of this fun-making organization was made up of five gentlemen of this city, Green McCarty, John McArthur, and John Brown.

Mr. Leachworth and John Brown, who were proved uproariously funny, and the manner of its presentation reflected credit upon the burnt-cork artists.

This concluded the programme, and a hall was held for dancing, which continued until about 1:30 a.m. refreshments were served at the Hotel Brunswick.

E SWALLOWED CONCENTRATED LYE.

The little three-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Mat Trev of this city today nearly died from the effect of getting at a can of concentrated lye. The little fellow climbed upon a chair and reached into a can of lye, where he had stuck his finger, and he was rescued by his mother.

A physician was sent for and relief given as soon as possible. The doctor is of the opinion that the boy did not swallow any of the lye, but that his lips and mouth were severely burned.

FELL FROM A LADDER.

A. S. Dunham, aged 75 years, an old resident of Santa Ana, fell from a ladder at an early hour this morning, and at first his injury was not thought to be serious, but later fears were entertained as to his recovery. The old gentleman was taken to the hospital, where internal injury. He is an old resident of this valley, and resides now at West street, this city.

THE COMING RACE MEET.

The boys have at their track in excellent condition, and the opportunity for record-making, with the additional incentive created by the fine list of prize offered, which will have the effect of bringing to this city some of the fastest riders in the Coast.

The Coast. The fact that the last year's events will be a most sensational holiday. Thankgiving, also, some promise of a larger attendance of spectators.

DEFENSE MAKES A POINT IN THE BUTTON CASE.

M. F. Dolan Arrested for Stealing Ore from Calico—Social and Personal Events of Interest.

SAN BERNARDINO, Oct. 31.—(Regular Correspondence.) The prosecution in the Button case rested at 11:30 this morning. Yesterday afternoon and this forenoon were largely taken up with expert testimony as to the extent of the probable effect of injuries received by Bohm in Button's first assault on him.

Dr. W. Thompson, ex-cornor, testified as to the condition of the face of Bohm, and stated that in his opinion Bohm was not responsible for anything he did after he had been trampled and kicked by Button. The bones of the face were broken, some of them pressed downward until there would be the effect of dazing the victim, so the doctor testified, as if he were thinking that after suffering such injuries Bohm was rational or that he was in a condition that he could appreciate what Button had withdrawn from the combat.

Dr. S. G. Huff was also called, being on the stand again this morning, and while of the opinion that Bohm was incapable of reasoning, he admitted that if he went to a time to the hospital, and loaded, and was ready to shoot Button, it would indicate a measure of reason.

With the receding of Claude Henderson, and the introduction of some other testimony, the prosecution rested.

Byron Waters, the attorney for the defense, made his first point at the trial for the admission of Claude Henderson's testimony at the coroner's inquest. This differs in one important particular from his evidence given in the present trial, and in a way which is favorable to the defense.

At the inquest he testified that after he received his gun, Bohm pointed it at Button and snapped the hammer, and that it was after this that Button ordered him to "drop it," and ended by shooting him in the back of the head.

Attorney Waters carried his point, and the evidence from the inquest was admitted.

STEALING SILVER ORE AT CALICO.

M. F. Dolan of Calico was arrested yesterday by Deputy Sheriff John Whaley on charge of stealing silver ore from the Red Cloud mine valued at $250.

The complaint was sworn out before Judge Soule several days ago, by J. M. Beckwith, assistant superintendent of the Red Cloud mine, which is one of the Garfield group at Calico.

It appears that the ore which it is claimed had been stolen was shipped to Los Angeles, and from there to the Selby Smelting Works at San Francisco. The ore is very rich in places, and it is possible to now and then pick out chunks weighing but a few pounds, but which will run very rich in silver.

Mr. Beckwith says the ore was carried away in little packages, and that 200 pounds of it had been accumulated, when this was shipped away to the smelter, and the miner who had abstracted the ore was never seen.

MRS. BALLINGTON BOOTH ADDRESSES A LARGE AUDIENCE.

Proposition Made to Sell the East Riverside Plant of the Electric Light and Power Company—Barn Destroyed by Fire.

RIVERSIDE, Oct. 31.—(Regular Correspondence.) Calvary Presbyterian Church of this city was crowded yesterday evening with those of all shades of religious belief to hear Mrs. Ballington Booth. When Mrs. Booth came upon the platform the entire audience rose and gave her the army salute, and otherwise welcomed her by the waving of handkerchiefs and hearty amen.

Rev. R. H. Hartley of the Presbyterian Church, president, and in introducing Mrs. Booth, said that we are glad to welcome any good thing to Riverside, and especially glad to welcome one bearing credentials of as good things as Mrs. Booth's.

Mrs. Booth's address lasted an hour and a half, and was listened to with close attention from beginning to end. She is a charming speaker, with her words falling in a melody, and her plain, simple manner in which she gives forth the truth, winning the hearts of all present as she told of the work of the army. Especially was her account of the slum work of the army very beautiful and touching.

Many had their eyes opened as to the real work of the army, and many a young man, "Where the need is greatest," said the speaker, "there we love to go."

THE GRAND JURY MAKES A SENATIONAL REPORT.

Public Officials, Past and Present, Severely Scored but no Indictments Returned—A Shortage of About $225,000.

BAKERSFIELD, Oct. 31.—(Special Dispatch.) Late this afternoon the grand jury brought in its report and presented it to the Superior Court. Contrary to expectations the report was not accompanied by any further indictments. This, it is believed, was caused by the fact developed today that the grand jury is likely to be declared illegal and all its work nullified and void.

This claim was made by the fact that the grand jury was summoned to appear in court and be examined on the charge of prejudice in the case of several indictments of county officers. A surprise was sprung, however, when the attorneys for the defendants challenged the right of C. A. Schmiedt to sit on the jury on the ground that he had never been properly naturalized. This claim was borne out by Schmiedt's own testimony, and the court took the motion under advisement. (Ill. November 18, saying the point had not been raised, and he would examine it closely.)

Immediately thereafter the reports of the grand jury and Expert Moore were filed and the jury was then finally discharged. The report has caused a profound sensation, largely on account of the numerous present and ex-county officials named. The report is a scorching one. It is not a respect of persons, and the names of prominent officials are mentioned. Ex-supervisors and present supervisors are scored, if not for actual dishonesty, at least for gross negligence.

Present and past officials, as well as also hauled over the coals; the county seal frauds are dealt with, and the county seal frauds are dealt with, and the county seal frauds are dealt with.

The expert's report figures out an alleged shortage of about $225,000, divided among various present and ex-county officials. Among those accused of malfeasance are ex-Auditor Howell, already indicted, ex-Assessor A. T. Lightner, not indicted, ex-Clerk N. R. Packard, indicted; Superintendent of Schools Harrel, indicted; Supervisor Roberts, Supervisor Jastro, ex-Tax Collector T. Baker, indicted; Dist. Atty. Alvin Fay and others.

OFFICIALS INDICTED. BAKERSFIELD, Oct. 31.—(Associated Press Dispatch.) The grand jury, after being in session since December 4 of last year, has its final report, containing 120 closely typed pages, this evening and was discharged. Twenty-nine indictments were found, five of which were against county officials.

CALIFORNIA LEAGUE.

OPENING OF THE PROFESSIONAL BASEBALL SEASON.

Los Angeles and Oakland Play a Rather Listless Game—Oakland Wins by a Score of Eight to Four—Better Sport in Prospect.

The California Baseball League season opened at Athletic Park yesterday afternoon with a rather listless game played by the Oakland and Los Angeles teams. The contest was won by Oakland in the very first inning, when five runs were piled up against Barnes. In the second inning Oakland made three more runs, but tallied nothing but goose-eggs during the rest of the game. As against Oakland's eight runs, the home team made only four altogether, one in the first, one in the fifth, and two in the sixth. The attendance was discouragingly small, and there was a general lack of enthusiasm, which may be accounted for by the absence of exciting plays. Stockwell was umpire, and with two or three exceptions his decisions gave perfect satisfaction. The doubtful decisions, which were mostly against Los Angeles, however, in no wise influenced the result of the game. The grounds were in poor condition.

A HOT LINER INTO CENTER FIELD.

the northern players tired out from their long trip, and the home talent a little nervous at going up against such formidable adversaries for the first time, yet on the whole it was not a very bad game, especially after the first few innings. Some good sport may be expected in the succeeding games.

DETAILS OF THE GAME.

Los Angeles went first to bat, and the man at the head of the batting list, Mr. McQuaid, promptly hit the ball safely into right field. Merles sacrificed him to second, and he took third on Cantillon's hit to center. McQuaid then stole home while the Oaklanders were trying to throw Cantillon out at second.

In Oakland's half of the first inning five runs were piled up. O'Rourke started off with hit to center and second. Irwin was given first on called balls. Van Hatten then lined out a safe on a bunt, on which O'Rourke tried to score, but a quick throw by Merles killed the run about a sixteenth of an inch from the plate. Hits by Burns and Pickett sent Irwin and Van Hatten across the rubber; and McQuaid's error of Tredway's easy one, a base on balls to Count Antonio Mullane, and Wilson's hit to leftfield, aided and abetted by McKibben's miss of an easy bounder from Jones's bat,

WATCHING FOR FOULS.

completed the record of an inning of good hitting and sloppy fielding. Oakland gathered in three more runs in the second inning after two hands were out. Burns hit to left for two bases, and Pickett sent the ball to the centerfield for what should have been an out, but the ball went through the fielder's hands and everybody groaned. It would not have been so bad had not the next two batters dumped their out-pitch into Lohman's territory, and Pickett promptly muffed both of them. The first one was a liner from Tredway's bat, and was rather a hard chance, but the second one had no redeeming feature. Los Angeles earned a run in the fifth inning on a single by McQuaid and a double by Merles. Two more tallies were made by the wearers of the blue in the sixth inning. Cantillon waited for four wild ones, and was followed by singles by Spear and Lohman, a double by Hickey and Mullane's error of McKibben's bounder down the first-base line.

The official score tells the story of the remaining portion of the game.

INGRATITUDE.

Neglecting the Memory of Lincoln at Atlanta.

A Southern California correspondent of The Times writes as follows: "A leading physician here has just returned from a visit to the Atlanta Exposition, and he makes one criticism that I have not seen mentioned by the press, to-wit: That, while photographs and prints of Congressmen and other distinguished persons are seen upon every hand, not a single photo or likeness of Abraham Lincoln was in sight. He thought this was shameful in the last degree, and he roared the leading colored men for their moral cowardice in not having the picture of their savior (Lincoln) occupying a prominent place in their own department, where of all other places he expected to surely find it. He says he told them that Lincoln's photos ought to be nailed to every post in their department, and spoke his mind so freely that his wife cautioned him lest he might have his bugle smashed; but he is an ardent admirer of the martyr President, and was willing to take the risk and fill his mind. Our dear Southern brethren tell us 'the war is over,' but such an outrage upon our nation's loyalty and manhood does not carry out the sentiment."

One of Switzerland's mountain lakes, the Maerlen See, at the foot of the Egihorn, was completely emptied in one night during the hot spell in September. The lake was a mile long by a sixth of a mile wide and 130 feet deep. The water probably escaped through fissures in the ice of the neighboring glaciers.

FOR ART LOVERS AND MEN AND WOMEN OF CULTURE.

Moran's Magnificent Masterpiece.

The attention of connoisseurs and critics in the world of art, and of all people of culture and refinement, is especially called to the fact that the lithographic reproduction of this celebrated painting was made under the special personal direction of the artist Moran himself. Every one of the twenty-one component colors used in the printing was first approved by the artist before being put upon the lithographic stone.

The Grandeur of the Gorge Portrayed.

The Grand Canyon of the Colorado, that wonderland of the world, pictured by an artist whose conception was striking, resistless, grand. Thomas Moran's painting, "THE GRAND CANYON OF THE COLORADO," was the artistic triumph and sensation of the World's Columbian Exposition at Chicago. The faithfulness of the artist in picturing the awful grandeur of the gorge; the delightful delicacy with which he has touched the rolling clouds of mist; the masterly manner in which he has handled Nature's coloring; that melodrama of flame and gold, and rose and wine and azure, is altogether superb.

19th Century Genius.

It is only high genius that has made possible the reproduction of such a splendid work of art, without the loss of a single sun glint; with all the heights and depths of shade luminously portrayed—a reproduction so real that the master whose hand guided the brush-strokes on the original canvas says of it, in effect: "As perfect as perfect can be."

It is this great lithographic triumph, this magnificent reproduction of Moran's famous picture, 22 1/4 x 38 1/4 inches in size, that THE TIMES has arranged to supply to subscribers. It is a picture with a theme grand enough and an execution beautiful enough to make it worthy a place on any wall—in any home.
